

English Language Arts B10

- Summer Reading

Dear Student,

Following is a list of some of the literature you will be reading for your summer English Language Arts Course. You will read two novels throughout the semester and one Shakespearean play, I suggest you begin reading prior to the summer semester starting.

The first novel you will read is the novella Of Mice and Men by John Steinbeck.

The second novel you will read is a novel you can choose from the following list. Try to choose the novel you'd like to read based on your interests. You can find summaries and reviews on Amazon or Goodreads. You may also want to ask the opinion of other people or students who have read the books in the past. If you start reading a novel and decide after a few days that you don't like it, you can change your mind. I want you to read a book you're interested in.

OPTIONS For Novel Study 2:

- The Lottery by Beth Goobie
- The Second Trial by Rosemarie Boll
- Wanting Mor by Rukhsana Khan
- Between Shades of Gray by Ruta Sepetys

Lastly you will be required to read the William Shakespeare play Macbeth.

Happy Reading!
